

i-Learner Writing Competition

S1-3 / Yr 7-9

(up to 1,500 words)

Should governments have any control over the housing market?

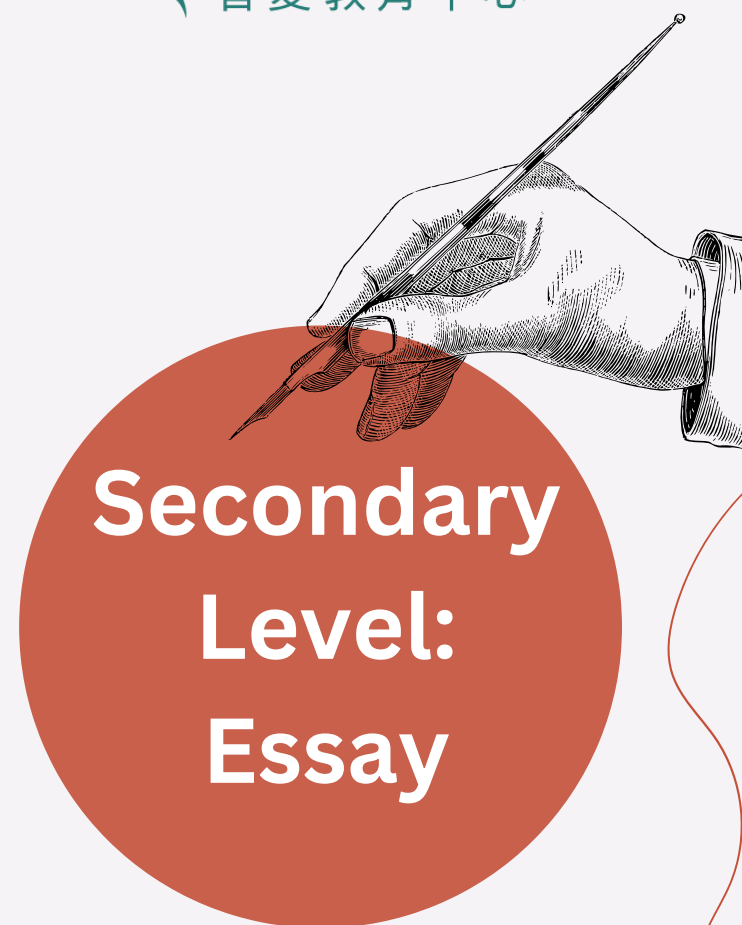

S4-6 / Yr 10-13

(up to 2,000 words)

1) Should young people obey their parents and teachers without question?

2) Is there any point to learning another language when technology is able to translate quickly and accurately?

3) A recent study revealed that income-happiness correlation is stronger in places with greater income inequality. What does this tell us about the link between money and happiness?

Secondary Level: Essay

Judging Panel

Dr Blanka Grzegorzczuk

- Teaching Associate / Affiliated Lecturer, University of Cambridge Centre for Research in Children's Literature

Dr Jessica Patterson

- Affiliated Lecturer, University of Cambridge Faculty of History
- Assistant Professor in History and Politics, Fellow and Director of Studies, Trinity College, University of Cambridge

Prizes:

- HK$15,000 scholarship for 2025 Oxford Scholars Tour or British Boarding School Summer Programme
- HK$10,000 scholarship for 2025 Oxford Scholars Tour or British Boarding School Summer Programme
- HK$5,000 scholarship for i-Learner Education programmes
- HK$3,000 scholarship for i-Learner Education programmes
- HK$500 scholarship for i-Learner Education programmes
- Trophies and certificates

